

“Protecting and Promoting New Mexico’s Environment Group”
New Mexico Department of Agriculture
Tribal Communication and Collaboration Policy

I. BACKGROUND

- A. In 2003, Governor Bill Richardson and Tribal Governments in New Mexico signed a Statement of Policy and Process (“Statement”) to “establish and promote a relationship of cooperation, coordination, open communication and good will, and [to] work in good faith to amicably and fairly resolve issues and differences.” The Statement “recognizes and respects [tribal] sovereignty” and directs State and Tribal Governments “to respect the principles of government-to-government relations.”

- B. In 2005, Governor Bill Richardson issued Executive Order 2005-004, Statewide Adoption of Tribal Consultation Plans. Executive Order 2005-004 expanded on the 2003 Statement by directing 17 State agencies to consult with all of New Mexico’s 22 Indian Nations, Tribes, and Pueblos in adopting tribal consultation plans that address “the agency’s operations that involve interaction with tribal governments, communities, and/or tribal members within New Mexico.”

- C. On March 19, 2009, Governor Bill Richardson signed the New Mexico State – Tribal Collaboration Act (“Act”) into law. The Act directs each state agency to designate a tribal liaison at each state agency, establishes an annual summit with New Mexico tribal leadership, and requires development of cultural competency training for state employees and development of state – tribal communication and collaboration policies for state agencies.

- D. In the fall of 2009, the Governor’s Office established the “Protecting and Promoting New Mexico’s Environment Group” composed of representatives from the New Mexico Energy, Minerals and Natural Resources Department, New Mexico Department of Game and Fish, New Mexico Office of State Engineer, New Mexico Environment Department, and New Mexico Department of Agriculture (“Agency” or “Agencies”). The Group was established to develop an overarching tribal communication and collaboration policy that:
 - a. Promotes effective communication and collaboration between the state agency and New Mexico Indian nations, tribes and pueblos;
 - b. Promotes positive government-to-government relations between the state and New Mexico Indian nations, tribes and pueblos;
 - c. Promotes cultural competency in providing effective services to New Mexico Indian nations, tribes and pueblos; and
 - d. Establishes a method for notifying state agency employees of the purpose and requirements of the tribal communication and collaboration policy.

- E. The Agency submits the Tribal Collaboration and Communication Policy (“Policy”) to the Indian Affairs Department in accordance with the State – Tribal Collaboration Act, NMSA 1978, § 11-18-4 (C) (2009).

- F. The adoption of this Policy does not preclude the Agency from further developing or updating agency-specific implementation plans, or consultation policies.

II. PURPOSE

- A. The purpose of this Policy is to foster, facilitate and strengthen positive government-to-government relations between the Agency and New Mexico's 22 Indian Nations, Tribes and Pueblos by establishing guidelines for State – Tribal communication and collaboration.

III. DEFINITIONS

- A. The following definitions shall apply in the Policy:

1. Agency or Agencies: New Mexico Environment Department, New Mexico Office of State Engineer, New Mexico Department of Game and Fish, New Mexico Energy, Minerals and Natural Resources Department, and New Mexico Department of Agriculture.
2. Communication: Verbal, electronic or written exchange of information between staff of Agency and Tribal Governments and their officials and staff
3. Collaboration: Collaboration is a process in which two or more parties work together to achieve a common goal. Collaboration may occur between the state and tribes and their respective agencies or departments and may involve other Indian organizations if needed. The purpose of collaboration is to discuss issues openly when they arise and to honor the sovereignty of each other.
4. Consultation: Consultation with Tribal Governments is a unique government to government process. Consultation is an enhanced form of communication that emphasizes trust and respect. It is a shared responsibility that allows the parties to exchange, in an open and free manner, timely and accurate information and opinions for the purpose of mutual understanding. Consultation does not involve matters or issues in litigation.
5. Cultural Competency: Refers to an ability to interact effectively with people of different cultures. Cultural competence comprises four components: (a) awareness of one's own cultural worldviews, (b) appreciation of cultural differences, (c) knowledge of different cultural practices and worldviews, and (d) honing cross-cultural skills. Developing cultural competence improves one's ability to understand, communicate with, and effectively interact with people across cultures.

6. Internal Agency Operations/Processes: The Agency has the authority and discretion to designate internal operations and processes that are excluded from this Policy such as personnel matters, budget development, accounting, etc.
7. Programmatic Action: Actions related to programs, bureaus, divisions and offices of the Agency excluding internal operations and processes that are planned or proposed to occur and that are within the areas of communication, collaboration, and consultation identified in this Policy.
8. Tribal Government: The governing structure of a sovereign, federally recognized government of an Indian Nation, Tribe, or Pueblo, within the United States. This Policy is inclusive of all 22 federally recognized Indian Nations, Tribes and Pueblos located in New Mexico.
9. Tribal impact: The impact of state legislation, regulations, policies, and Programmatic Actions on the natural, cultural, and environmental resources of New Mexico's 22 Indian Nations, Tribes, and Pueblos.
10. Tribes: Any of New Mexico's 22 Indian nations, Tribes, and Pueblos.

IV. PRINCIPLES

- A. Recognize and Respect Sovereignty: The recognition and respect of sovereignty is the basis for government-to-government relations and this Policy. State and Tribal Governments are sovereign governments. Sovereignty must be respected and recognized in government-to-government relations. Tribal Governments and State has the inherent authority to govern their own internal affairs. The State of New Mexico and the Agency recognize and acknowledge the trust responsibility of the Federal Government to New Mexico's 22 Indian Nations, Tribes and Pueblos.
- B. Promote Government-to-Government Relations: The Agency shall strive to facilitate discussion with New Mexico's 22 Indian Nations, Tribes and Pueblos, other parties, intergovernmental organizations, commissions and county and local governments to promote government-to-government relations.
- C. Establish Partnership and Coordination: In order to maximize the use of limited funding and human resources, the Agency and New Mexico's 22 Indian Nations, Tribes and Pueblos are encouraged to establish partnerships and coordinate on programmatic activities, training, workshops, and areas of mutual interest or concern.
- D. Promote Mutual Resolution: The Agency shall work in good faith with Tribal Governments to address and mutually resolve concerns. The Agency recognizes that good faith, mutual respect, and trust are fundamental to developing meaningful working relationships.

- E. Utilize Informal Communications: The Agency and Tribal Governments recognize that formal consultation may not be required in all situations or interactions. Staff for the Agency and Tribal Governments may communicate outside the consultation process. These communications do not negate the authority of the Agency and Tribal Governments to request formal consultation.

 - 3. Informal Communications with Other Indian Organizations. The State-Tribal relationship is based on a government-to-government relationship. However other Indian organizations, such as those representing or providing services to New Mexico Indian Nations, Tribes and Pueblos might be adversely affected if excluded from Agency communications.
